Interview with Ken

Do you remember MadLibs? It’s the game where you fill a verb or a noun or a person into a blank. Then you insert the words into a pre-written paragraph.

Shaun Freed recently played this game with Ken, taking minor liberties with his answers. The following has been printed without the expressed written consent of the interviewee. The bold text is Ken’s answer to the phrase found in the parenthesis:

I know I look like $42,728.62 bucks (amount of money it would take to make you quit being CC Music Director) most of the time, but in the morning even my dog Hey Babe (term of endearment for your wife) can’t stand to look at me. It takes me 2 days, 3 hours, and 27 minutes (time you think it would take you to run a marathon) every morning to look like the chocolate fudge brownie (favorite baked good) that I am. Don’t get me wrong; it’s well worth the effort when I get to work and hear those words, “You’re the best dad in the whole wide world.” (phrase of affirmation you receive from your kids). But this week is special. I get to work and play with kids as beautifully complex (characteristic of good music) as me.

Tuesday’s Menu

Lunch: macaroni and cheese, peas, peaches, apple crisp

Dinner: hot dogs, tater-tots, ice cream sandwiches, green beans

Joke of the Day

Q: Why did Captain Crunch cross the sea?

A: To get to the other tide!

Quotables

"I miss my dog more than I miss my mom and dad."

- Shari Martin

"You know when they said that the parents were leaving? We should have said "Awww" like we were sad they were leaving."

- anonymous camper

Did You Know?

... that you can attend Rosedale Bible Institute for about $6000 a year? That might seem like a lot, but the cost is only half of what most other colleges charge. So make plans to attend in about a decade.

Choral Camp Definitions

"ACCENT"

A class in which various topics of music are highlighted

"TAP"

A class in which music theory and appreciation are taught and compositions are practiced
