Choral Campers and staff are like ...

Jesse Showalter overheard a camper who was struggling to walk on stilts say: "I'm like a penguin that cannot waddle."

This was such a great description that we decided to ask others at camp what they feel like when they're struggling to accomplish a tough task.

Jared Stutzman: "I'm like a beaver with no teeth. No, like a snail with no slime. Okay, now I'm getting gross."

Bethany Rice: "I'm like a whale with no voice box. That would be really creepy, because I'd just float along in the water, all silent and scary."

Allison Gingerich: "I'm like a chicken that can't squawk."

Ellen Moore (giggling): "I'm like a poodle who can't groom." (She had a bad hair day.)

SERIOUS TEETH

the unstoppable Bethany Rice.

Bethany's welcome

Hello, Campers!

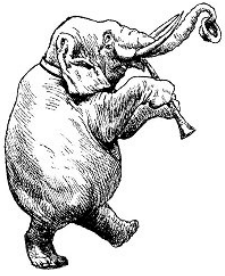

It is wonderful to have you all here. Choral Camp has been the favorite part of my summer for the past ten years, and I hope it's a favorite of yours as well. The energy, creativity, and personality that you all bring are what make Choral Camp exciting.

I look forward to seeing you throw yourselves into all of the activities, games, classes, and events that you will experience this week!

Looking forward to hearing you "sing joyfully" to the Lord!

First day at Choral Camp, happy to be here! (More on page 2)
