

Thursday's Forecast

T-storms in spots
High—83°F, RealFeel 93°F
Low—67°F, RealFeel 67°F
Precipitation (41%)

Some people can tell how a sheep is feeling by looking at the position of its ears. How do you think Cengiz feels about Choral Camp?

THE ROSEDALE RECORD

Reporting Choral Camp news since 2000

July 14, 2016

rosedale.edu

Vol. 17, No. 3

Counselors aren't sure how campers will respond to their tiny hands.

Campers come through! Yay, campers!

An unexpected development

By AnnaStasia Yoder

Counselors have been seen with tiny baby hands! Dependable sources have witnessed shrimpy hands sprouting from counselors' fingers.

These same sources claim that it is the camp's food that is causing this bizarre development.

Choral Camp food is made for campers, so when adults eat excessive amounts, they can experience unfortunate and freaky side effects.

Some have temporary drowsiness, some get extremely silly, and some (the lucky few) grow baby fingers out the ends of their fingers.

Despite the creepiness of the situation, most are enthralled with their new appendages. If you see any of these counselors, they will most likely run up to you, asking for a high five. It is probably best to go ahead and cheer them up and give them a high five. Thank you for your cooperation!

Tiny hand hug!

Introducing Ken's musical mice!

The Campy Squeakers, left to right: On
pan pipes, Gouda;
on the euphonium,
Mozzarella; Feta on flute; Roquefort on guitar; and Cheddar on cello.

When Ken Miller got a text yesterday that said, "We need help with the mice in the cafeteria," he knew what to do.

"Those mice," he explained to The Record, "are extremely musical, which makes them sensitive to loud noises, and the cafeteria's a pretty noisy place."

He rushed over to rescue his little mice ensemble, The Campy Squeakers, from the harsh sounds of hungry and excitable campers.

The Squeakers are now safely ensconced in Ken's quiet campus office. NOTE TO HEALTH AUTHORITIES: There are no mice in RBC's cafeteria. The "mice" text was a result of autocorrect, which change mic to mice. BUT The Campy Squeakers do exist!

Some musical glimpses of Choral Camp

Time Capsules! Super Games! Hymns! Ice Cream!

7:30 Wake Up
8:00 Breakfast
9:00 Choir–Library
9:30 Chapel
10:00 Time Capsule, Camp Tree
10:30 Session XV:
YOR–Class
GBB–Choose-a-Spot
11:30 Choir–Library
12:00 Lunch
1:00 Session XVI:
YOR–Choose-a-Spot
GBB–Class–Library
2:00 Choir–Library

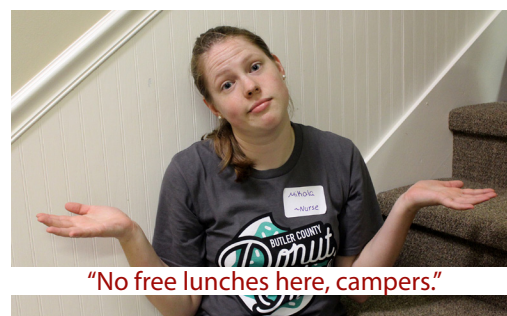

2:30 Super Games
5:15 Dinner
6:15 VIP Classes
6:45 Session XVII:
YOR–Class
GBB–Choose-a-Spot
7:45 Room Break
8:00 Hymn Sing–Chapel
9:00 Ice Cream & Games–All
9:30 YOR–Devotions
GBB–Campfire
10:00 YOR–Lights Out
GBB–Devotions
10:30 GBB–Lights Out

Nurses go on strike! "No bribes, no awards!"

The Record is sorry to report a shocking turn of events: the nurses refused to do room checks on Wednesday.

"We were just so disappointed in the lack of bribery," explained Nurse Mikala. "I need those bribes!"

Camp authorities report that awards will resume tomorrow. "No matter what, Mikala!" said Matt in his most menacing voice (which is not really very menacing).

"No free lunches here, campers."

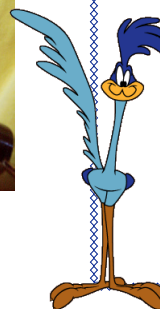

Thursday's Menu

Breakfast: Baked French toast, blueberries, Little Smokies, cereal, milk, juice.

Lunch (Cultural Meal!): Adana beef pitas, veggies w/ dip, grapes, Sekerpare.

Supper: Corn dogs, French fries, pickles, watermelon, lemonade.

Ice Cream Social!

Campers are studying the culture of Turkey this year! Teacher Deborah Showalter shows how to hold a lute.