

Thursday's Forecast

Scattered AM T-storms
High—87°F
Low—68°F

Andean condors mate for life and lay their eggs way
high up on rocky mountain ledges.

THE ROSEDALE RECORD

Reporting Choral Camp news since 2000

July 11, 2019 rosedale.edu

Vol. 20, No. 3

Forces Beyond Our Control

Oh, my. What a day at Choral Camp! First, a shocking shortfall of shaving cream, which of course, shook us all up. What was going on?

By the time the Blue, Green, and Black groups slid off the Choral Camp Cream tarps and headed to their dorms to rinse off the mentholated scent of way too much shaving cream, the Crew was making a terrible discovery: all the shaving cream was gone!

What to do? The Yellow, Orange and Red (YOR) campers were going to arrive for their shot at shaving cream glory in just minutes! Word traveled to Camp HQ, not far from the Record's office. Of course, an investigation ensued.

Here's what we saw and heard: "It's a scandal!" Nervous laughter. "What happened to the missing cream?" Deep concern for the YOR campers.

Prayer: "God, we know this is a small thing —"

Interruption from unruly person also praying: "It's a BIG DEAL!"

Conspiracy theories arose, not worthy of being mentioned.

In true Choral Camp spirit, Bethany and Jenny (and Jenny hadn't even had lunch yet!) volunteered to make mad dashes to Milford Center and Mechanicsburg to buy up all the shaving cream they could find.

Darnell drove to WalMart, but a road closure (second evil force in motion), added 20 minutes to his trip. He arrived back on campus too late, but no worries. With echoes of loaves and fishes, the 49 cans that Bethany and Jenny bought seemed to multiply and be enough to satisfy the shaving cream needs of the YOR campers.

Through it all, Choral Camp Director Kirk Kauffman maintained a posture of calm self-possession.

But he had dark circles under his eyes this morning.

Overheard

Rachel, get out of that bucket!

THE AMAZING TOES OF HANNAH JONES!

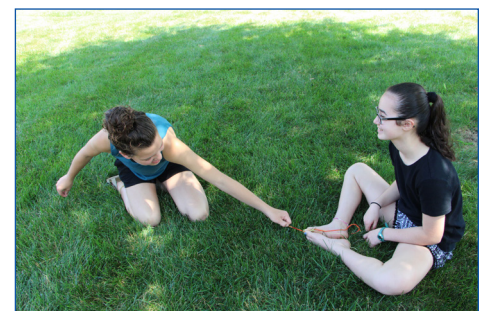

By Anna Gaertner

Rumors are spreading around campus, rumors about the strongest toes in town.

These small little phalanges belonging to our very own Hannah Jones may look weak and vulnerable, but don't underestimate their might.

The word on the street is that Hannah's rare toes can grab things and lock into position with the power of a cobra. These toes have their pluses and minuses. For example: great for holding thread to make friendship bracelets, but terrible for any living thing that comes in contact with them.

If you are lucky enough to see Hannah's toes, ask her how they feel being famous!

Hannah and her very strong toes, good for making friendship bracelets, also for picking things up off the floor!

Camp Tree! Super Games! Hymn Sing! Ice Cream!

7:30	Wake Up	2:30	Super Games
8:00	Breakfast	5:15	Dinner
9:00	Choir-Library	6:15	VIP Classes
9:30	Chapel	6:45	Session XVII:
10:00	Time Capsule, Camp Tree		YOR-Class
10:30	Session XV:		GBB-Choose-a-Spot
	YOR-Class	7:45	Room Break
	GBB-Choose-a-Spot	8:00	Hymn Sing-Chapel
11:30	Choir-Library	9:00	Ice Cream & Games-All
12:00	Lunch	9:30	YOR-Devotions
1:00	Session XVI:		GBB-Campfire
	YOR-Choose-a-Spot	10:00	YOR-Lights Out
	GBB-Class-Library		GBB-Devotions
2:00	Choir-Library	10:30	GBB-Lights Out

Wednesday Room Awards

Best room awards:

Beethoven's Fifth: Room 9

Joel Schrader, Casey Beitzel
Jonathan Weaver Swartz
Eli Curtis

Best of Bach: Room 5

John Gaertner, Ethan Graber

Josiah Ebersole, Sam Blanton, Zane Kelly

Handel's Messiah: Room 12

AnaSophia Schrader, Evelyn Simmons
Eleya Beachy, Felicity Mead

Mozart's Eine Kleine Nachtmusik: Room 7

Anna-Claire Carr, Rachel Showalter
Gracie Mullett, Olivia Solokha

Strauss's Blue Danube Waltz: Room 3

Alisha Graber, Lydia Showalter
Danika Moshier, Glory Freed

Bach was the best hall!

MENDELSSOHN'S LESSER KNOWN QUARTET FOR STRINGS, OBOE, AND WHINING DOG

WWW.THE-SPINE.COM

THURSDAY'S MENU

Breakfast: Pancakes, bacon, cantelope, cereal, milk, juice.

Lunch: Ham, cheesy potatoes, green beans, Mandarin oranges.

Supper: Corn dogs, Tater Tots, pickles, watermelon, lemonade.

Evening snacks: Ice Cream Social!