AN UNEXPECTED GUEST ON BEETHOVEN HALL

Connor Slabaugh was flabbergasted yesterday morning when a non-human guest appeared on his hall during camper registration. Connor, Assistant Hall Leader for Beethoven, discovered a llama unpacking her suitcase in an empty room on the hall. “I tried to explain to her that she was in the wrong place, but she insisted on staying!”

So now Beethoven Hall has a llama—and speculation is flying. Why is this llama here? What does she want with Choral Camp and Beethoven Hall?

Caleb Eicher thinks that she traveled all the way from South America to view Beethoven's citrus decorations and experience the hall's tropical heat for herself. “Who wouldn't view Beethoven as the ideal vacation spot?” he argues.

Camp Pastor Matt Showalter wonders if she's here to visit family. “Camels and llamas are from the same biological family—maybe [Choral Camp mascot] Spitz is her cousin!”

Whatever the reason she may have for her trip, Lucille the llama seems to be enjoying her time at camp. Jared Yoder reports that she's “making herself right at home,” and Caleb agrees: “She seems to really enjoy all our pineapples.”

Welcome Campers!

Good morning campers! It's so exciting that we can do Choral Camp again! Welcome back, and if this is your first time here, we are so very glad that you've joined us. Your week will be full, I promise.

I hope that during this week you experience God in his fullness through worship, choir, campfires, hayrides, water games, hymn sings, fun, and more. God is a big God and we get to enjoy his many gifts.

I've been thinking a lot this year about how things don't always go our way. We all wanted to have Choral Camp in 2020, but it didn't work out. And that's OK. David was comforted that though he walked through the valley of the shadow of death, God was with him. God is with you, in the highs and lows, and in the good and bad.

Let's make this a great camp with open hearts eager to know God more.
