This training is different than anything we have ever done as a company. We have redirected the ship and are altering our focus. We are asking better questions and have a new definition of "serving leaders." It was a great investment on our part.

~Lyn Byler,
Byler Groceries

The Serving Leader cohort shaved years off my learning curve. Being encouraged to reveal my values was a huge confidence booster. This clarity cleaned up communication with my team, helped set expectations, and drove better focus in our work. Faculty and staff were enabled to do high quality work which helped students feel cared for. I was able to delegate because my colleagues had a clear understanding of how to handle a project.

~Jeremy Miller,
