Welcome to Choral Camp!

Early last week, a very special visitor from Argentina arrived on the Choral Camp campus. His name is Diego, and he is a capybara! He lives in South America and loves to swim.

Although Diego loves to swim and sing as well, he has something that makes him different from the other capybaras in Argentina: Diego dreams of being the best capybara singer in the world! So of course, when his friend Megan Troyer asked if he would visit Choral Camp, he jumped at the opportunity. “Choral Campers are some of the most renowned singers in the world!”

Diego fulfilled another dream today when he was able to meet with Rosedale Bible College's President, Jeremy Miller. “Diego is truly an exceptional rodent!” Said President Miller. Diego was similarly impressed with President Miller and his knowledge of capybara culture.

If you see our special capybara in the student center, be sure to say hello! We can make Diego feel welcome at Choral Camp. You can even give him some singing tips! He loves to learn, and he might even sing along with you!

Director's Note

Good morning campers! Choral Camp is back!! We are delighted that you are here, and if this is your first time at Choral Camp, we are especially thrilled you have joined us.

There is so much that happens at Choral Camp! I want to encourage you to be open. Be open to learning new things everyday. Be open to hearing God's voice during chapel and campfire. Be open to making new friends.

Be open to stepping out of your comfort zone and doing something new.

Most importantly, be open to becoming more like Christ. Heaven and earth. That is our theme this year. Our God is good. He is a God of the big things, but also the little things. He created music and armadillos. He is full of love and truth. He is Lord of every inch of His creation.

--Kirk Kauffman, Camp Director
